

Midnight Library

Elif and Can were best friends at the university. They were both studying in the history department. One day, their professor gave them an assignment about old documents. These documents could only be found in the university's old library.

Elif said, "The library is very quiet and a bit creepy at night." Can laughed and asked, "Are you scared?" Elif sighed and said, "Anyway, let's go and finish the assignment."

At 10 PM, they entered the library. It was dark and silent. A scary and mysterious-looking librarian said, "The library closes at midnight. Finish your work by then." They both started examining old books and documents.

As time passed, the air got colder. Suddenly, a noise came from behind the shelves. Elif asked in fear, "What was that?" Can replied, "Maybe it's just the wind," but he had heard the sound too.

Mert whispered, "Is someone there?" They both slowly looked between the shelves but saw no one. Just then, a book fell to the ground!

Elif screamed, and Can quickly picked up the book. Its cover was very old, with strange symbols on it. When they opened the book, its pages were yellowed, but there was a note inside: "What happens here, stays here."

Mert said, "Is this a joke?" But at that moment, the lights started flickering. Elif shouted, "Let's get out of here now!"

As they ran toward the door, a shadow moved. They both stopped and held their breath. The shadow passed behind an old desk. Can gathered his courage and slowly stepped forward. But there was no one behind the desk!

Suddenly, the librarian appeared out of the darkness. "You should leave now. No one comes here at this hour," he said. Elif quickly said, "There was someone here!" The librarian smiled in a creepy way and said, "Strange things happen in this old library every night. But don't worry, no one gets hurt."

The two friends rushed out of the library. Elif said, "I don't think we'll ever forget this night." Can added, "I'm never coming to the library at night again!" Elif was still scared but laughed and said, "I guess our assignment is done."

That night, neither of them could sleep as they kept thinking about the library. Was someone really there, or had they just imagined it?