and the Rainy Day

by Zeynep Naz Yurtsever & Nehir Çiçekçi

One morning, a little boy ran away from home after an argument with his mother. He only took his favorite blue umbrella with him. As he wandered through the streets, he got distracted and left the umbrella on a bench.

The gust of wind blow, carrying the umbrella away until it got stuck in a tree. But this wasn't just a tree. It is a old thick and a little grumpy. "What are you doing on my branches? You will break them!" The tree growed angrily. The umbrella was frightend and couldn't move.

It swayed slightly in the wind, trying not to upset the tree more just as the tree was about to shake his branches to toss the umbrella away. A little girl passing by noticed the scene.

Her name was Mia. She was kind and pretty faced and helpful girl. She carried a small bag full of books. "Oh no! Poor umbrella" Mia said, reaching up carefully. She climbed near by bench, stood on her toes, gently untangled the umbrella from the branches.

"Don't worry, I've got you now." She whispered to the umbrella felt safe again. " For the first time since it had lost the boy. Mia twirled it playfully. Then she opened it above her head as raindrops began to fall

As they walked together, they spotted a small dog curled up by the sidewalk, shivering and soaked." Hey, little one..." Mia said softly, kneeling beside the dog. She opened the umbrella wide to shelter it, and the dog looked up with grateful eyes.

Mia took of her scarf and gently wrapped the dog in it. From that moment on; the umbrella, Mia and the dog became a little trio.

They shared warmth stories (Mia talked a lot)
,and laughter as they wandered the neighborhood.But the umbrella still missed its boy.Mia noticed.

"Let's find your home" She said. "No one should feel lost forever." So they walked street by street asking around eventually in a nearby park, they spotted the boy sitting alone on a swing.

His eyes lit up when he saw the umbrella in Mia's hand "my umbrella" he cried, running toward them. He hugged it tightly and then looked at the Mia and the dog.

“Thank you” and just like that four hearts” - one boy, one girl, one dog and the umbrella- were connected by a rainy day and a lot of kindness

Then the umbrella noticed the other umbrella which is on the swing that boy was sitting. "The umbrella shocked." Suddenly umbrella step back and it's face started to blushing.

The umbrella said: "How could you do that to me. Did you found a new umbrella when i was missing. I can not believe you now."

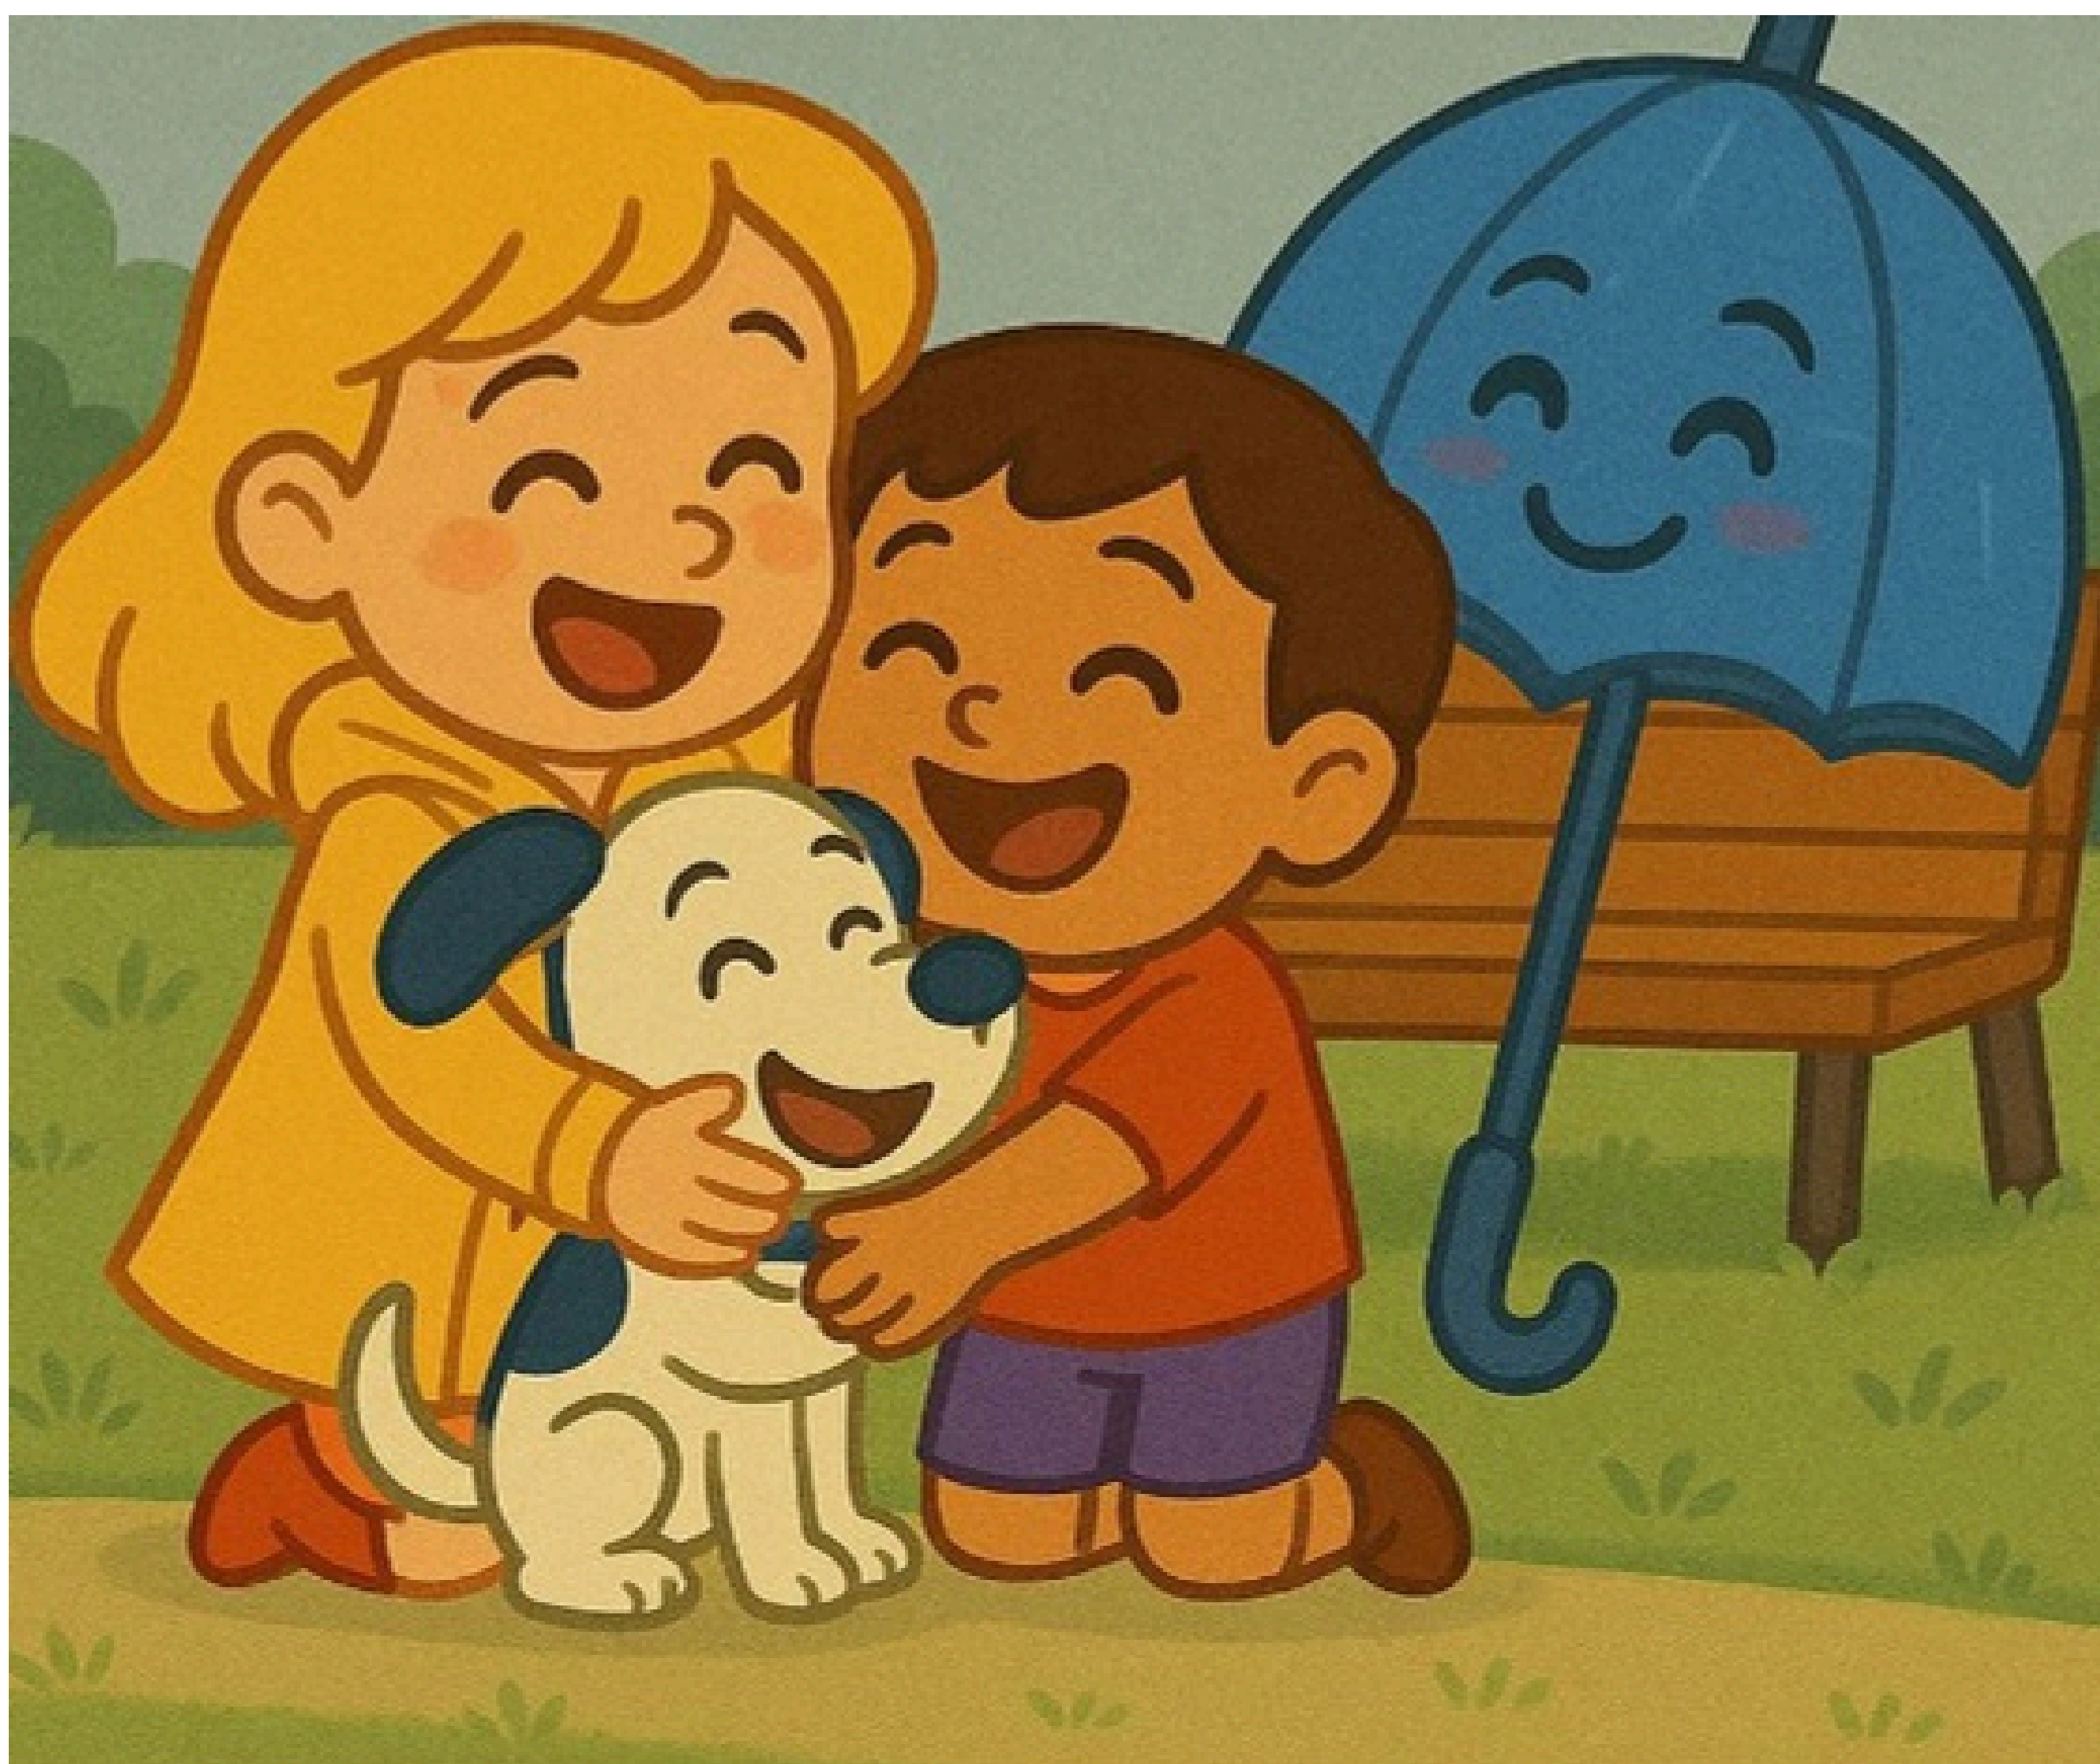

The boy try to explain the situation but the umbrella was too angry to understand.Mia and Snoopy tried to calm the umbrella down.

Then boy's mother came and saw the umbrella. She said: "Where have you been? We missed you. Then turned the boy and said I see that you find your umbrella so you can give me your own back."

The umbrella was surprised and said “your umbrella.” Umbrella felt guilty for blaming the boy umbrella apologized to the boy. They forgave each other, and all together hugged and lived happily.
